LIMITS OF RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

By the Rev. H. Longueville Mansel, B. D., Reader in Moral and Metaphysical Phylosophy at Magdalen College, Oxford.

12mc, cloth. $1.25.

This volume is destined to create a profounder sensation in this country than any philosophylad or religious work of this century. It is a defause of revealed religion, equal in soliny to the "Analogy" of Bp. Butler, and meets the skepticism of our age as effectually as that great work in an earlier day. The Fantheirm and Parkerism infused into our popular literature will here find an antidote. The Lectures excited the highest enthusiasm at Oxford, and the volume has already reached a shirte delition in England. The copious "Notes" of the author have been translated for the American edition by an accomplished scholar, which adds greatly to its value.

HUGH MILLER'S NEW VOLUME. POPULAR GEOLOGY. With descriptive Sketches Geologist's Portfolio. By Hugh Miller. With a Resume Progress of Geological Science during the last two year Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Miller.

12mo, cloth. $1.25.

This work is likely to prove the most popular of Hugh Miller's writings and to attain the widert circulation. It is written in his best style, and makes the mysteries of Geology intelligible to the common mind. As an architect explains the structure of a bouse from cellar to attle, so this accomplished geologic takes they alobe to pieces, and explains the manner in which all its strain have been formed, from the grarite foundation to the alluvial surface. It supplies just the information which many readers have been longing for, but mable to find.

The Trade wishing for early copies of these forthcoming works will send in their orders.

Literary History of his Time. By David Masson, M. A., Professor of English Literature in University College, London.

Vol. I. From 1664 to 1659.

Sto., cloth. $275.

The sale of the first edition of this great work, in four weeks, is a sufficient testimonial to its worth. It has received the highest commendation from English and American critice.

"An elaborate, crudite and magnificent work."—[N. Y. Independent. pendent.
"It will stand henceforth in the light of a classic. It is thorough, exhaustive, able and satisfactory—a magniform but just tribule to the memory of one of the streatest use, as well as the foremost port, of modern times."—[N. Y. Evangelist.

AN ADMIRABLE NOVEL

DOMESTIC LIFE.

Of late years a new and wholesome tendency has appeared in French imaginative literature. A class of writers have appeared, who, instead of appealing to movid passions and depraved tastes, have gained a reputation by depoting the pure and healthy emotions of the heart, by developing the charms of genial as of symmetrical characters, and by exhibiting neur and women noisy triumphing over adverse circumstances and social heroptations.

of this new school of writers, two conspicuous examples are found in the works of Emile Souvestre and OCTAVE FEULL The former has already been extensively translated.

English, and is not unknown in this country. The latter w propose to introduce to the readers of THE TRIBUSE, by spirited version of his ROMANCE OF A POOR YOUNG MAN. which has recently appeared in Paris, and has been halled by both French and English critice as perhaps the most striking and admirable work of fiction that appeared in any country during the year 1858. Indeed, since "Jane Eyre" startled the novel-reading world, we hardly remember another production of the kind which, for beauty and interest, can be compared with this.

with this.

The publication of "THE ROMANCE OF A POOR TOUNG MAN" is commenced in THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE of this week, and will be regularly continued until t is completed. Newsmen will please send in their orders immediately.
